

The acronym ARB is used on page 12 of the Action Plan without being defined previously in the plan. I went back and in the beginning of the document, before the Table of Contents, there was mentioned the Air Resources Board(s), but it was not identified that it would be used in a shortened version, i.e. "...Air Resources Board (ARB)..." People unfamiliar with this jargon and these acronyms won't know what is being discussed.

Also, there is no significant discussion about economic development, specifically how there might be an increase of jobs, local tax revenue for the cities directly and indirectly impacted by freight and its movement.
